DVIDS Partners with iTunes

Atlanta, GA – Digital Video & Imagery Distribution System (DVIDS), the leading provider of U.S. military imagery and the connection between media around the world and service members, announced today they are reaching out to an ever-growing audience through their partnership with iTunes. Search for DVIDS on iTunes to watch and download the best stories of the week direct from the men and women serving at home and overseas.

“DVIDS becoming a featured partner with iTunes allows us to have a branded channel and gives us the opportunity to advertise new and exciting podcasts on the iTunes store,” said Jon Micheletto, VOD Executive Producer for DVIDS. “By working with Apple, units and deployed service members now have a prominent avenue in which they can submit and share their stories from the frontlines with the world.”

In addition to numerous weekly podcasts, subscribers will have access to a wide variety of newscasts and stories from all branches of the military; as well as DVIDS’ monthly program, “In The Fight” which features military operations, humanitarian missions and greetings.

DVIDS provides timely, accurate and reliable connection between media and U.S. Military in Iraq, Afghanistan, Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain, Djibouti, Cuba, Japan and the United States. Via a network of portable Ku-band satellite transmitters located with deployed military units and a distribution center in Atlanta, DVIDS offers free broadcast quality video, images, news stories and interview opportunities with military subject matter experts, commanders and service members.
